EXCESS GARDEN PRODUCE? – A SIMPLE SOLUTION!

At this time of year, many parishioners who grow fruit and vegetables can face the problem of what to do with surplus food that they cannot manage to eat, bottle, freeze etc. It is such a shame to see excellent produce go to waste. There will be a table outside the church (or in the porch) at all Masses for the next few Sundays. Please do bring along any spare apples, cucumbers, courgettes, tomatoes etc. Parishioners are invited to take some produce in return for a donation. All proceeds to the St Vincent de Paul Society.

MADABA LINK

Eliz and Mike Wood travel to Jordan on Sept 11th to visit our link parish in Madaba for a week. The aim is to update our knowledge of living conditions for both the Jordanian parishioners and the Iraqi refugees. We will be taking funds to distribute where we see the greatest need. We will also deliver to Fr Firas an invitation from Fr Sean to visit The Sacred Heart Parish, in the near future.

Salaam Kikhwa, our regular Iraqi correspondent is due to travel to Australia with his parents in the near future. We hope to meet them before they leave. Salaam has written recently of his concern for the Jordanian parishioners and their need for support from Christians in the West. He says that some Jordanians are themselves talking about emigration because of their poor economic prospects.

FUNDANAMI TRUST

Last week a container of 20000 children's books was delivered from the port of Durban to the town of Kwadukuza in KwaZuluNatal, South Africa. They have already been distributed to local schools to provide much needed libraries. Several boxes of bibles and other religious books suitable for children have been donated to the local Catholic Holy Rosary parish. Many thanks to parishioners of the Sacred Heart and parents at St Francis

School and St Bede's in Redhill who generously contributed about 2000 books to the container. The small team who helped load boxes of books into vans destined for the Leicester warehouse prior to shipment were also an invaluable help.

Thank you.
